

What Is a Floating Office?

It's Free Office Space!

Sign up for one or more of our services and you can use one of our "Floating Offices" for free!

Definition: Floating Office – Climate controlled, rent free office space! Desk, local phone service and electricity included!

We understand that Rent is expensive. We also understand that sometimes you need to get out of your house and conduct business in a quiet, relaxed, professional environment. We welcome our clients to use our Floating offices to make calls, code bills, and schedule meetings.

Some of our builders even schedule their production meetings at our office as a convenience to their field supervisors. Since we perform their accounting functions it makes it easier to inspect bills, follow up with subs, review reports and resolve any accounting issues.

All Contractors need to code bills and review job reports. Why not come to our office, get that work done and pass it off to your specific bookkeeper or construction administrator when finished. They can then begin processing your invoices and cutting your checks.

While your there, talk to our Architect, CPA, draftsman or estimators about how you can improve your plans, your cash flow or anything else that may keep you up at night. Our team has a vast amount of experience to help you with all of your construction needs.
